

SOUTH MOLUCCAS

The sovereignty of Indonesia was established on December 27, 1949. The new central government of the Republic of Indonesia did not immediately unite all the islands of Indonesia. On April 25, 1950, the Republic of the South Moluccas was declared on the islands of Ambon and Saparoea and stamps were overprinted "Republik Maluku Selatan". The leaders of this movement sent a representative, Mr. K. Nikijoeloe, to the United Nations, New York and opened "The Information Office of the South Moluccas Republic" at 310 East 44th Street, New York City. In 1952, they also renamed the currency units from "sen" to "kopeng" and from "rupiah" to "remas".

We created these catalog numbers and prices to allow us to organize our stock and offer this material for sale.

PERMESTA

On February 15, 1958, the P.R.R.I. (Pemerintah Revolusioner Republik Indonesia or Revolution Against the Rule of Indonesia) was proclaimed. Dissidents in the military in North Celebes had these stamps printed in Formosa for use in areas under their control. They are issued ungummed on thin paper.

Forgeries (often referred to as reprints) abound and are identified by their uneven printing of details. On the originals, the north part of Borneo is in a clear, neat lighter dot pattern, the numerals are clean and the background is smooth, with even dot structure. Forgeries appear uneven, with the north Borneo area uneven or absorbed into the whole island, the numbers weakly defined and the background pale with a weak dot structure.
